THE OPERA COMPANY ORGANIZED.

OFFICERS ELECTED YESTERDAY-MR. ABBEY AND COLONEL MAPLESON BOTH IN THE FIELD.

The Board of Directors of the new Metropolitan era and Real Estate Company met yesterday at office of G. G. Haven, in the Mutual Life Buildfor the first time since the incorporation of the The directors are Samuel D. Babcock, F. Baker, George S. Bowdoln, Robert Goelet, George G. Haven, Adrian Iselin, Augustus D. Julliard, Inther Kountze, D. O. Mills, J. Pierpont Morgan, William K. Vanderblit, George Peabody Wetmore and William C. Whitney. George L. Rives, the legal adof the company, was also present. The officer previously chosen unofficially were elected officially They are: President, G. G. Haven; vice-president Adrion Iselin; treasurer, George S. Bowdoin; secre-tary, Hugh M. McLaren; Executive Committee, the ent, the vice-president, the treasurer, W. C. valtney and Robert Goelet.

Executive Committee was directed to attend the payment for the Metropolitan Opera House property, which, according to the terms of the auction mis held three weeks ago, must be made in full next raceday. A letter was received from Colonel J. H. Mapleson asking that a proposal from him for lease of the opera house be considered. The propotal is not yet formally made. Henry E. Abbey previously talked with Mr. Haven and other ors about his own plans for an opera season. The Executive Committee was instructed to look the merits of the two proposals. Other comuilding Committee yesterday visited the opera in, in company with Mr. McElfatrick, the archineed in theatre construction. Mr. McElfatrick aggested that there should be two aisles on the floor, instead of one, as formerly, and that bouse should be closed to make room for another erterre box. This would make thirty-five of these xes, and it may be mentioned here that a new ckholder has been added to the company, raising number to thirty-five. The boxes at the sides the orchestra floor, next the stage, have already been removed, in accordance with a previous sug-restion of Mr. McElfatrick. John Schoeffel argued resterday that the adoption thus far of the plan of the architect employed by his firm was an indication that the company intended to give the lease of the

that the company intended to give the lease of the house to Abbey, Schoeffel & Grau. Colonel Mapleson said yesterday that the outline of his plan as given in The Tribune yesterday morn-ing was correct. He had not formulated his propoon for the directors as yet, and he could not do till he knew exactly what they had to offer him in the form of scenery, costumes, properties, etc. Be must know also how the house was to be arranged how many people it would hold. Of course everybody knows that there is no scenery left at the Metropolitan, and everybody who remembers that which was used last season is glad to know it. The fire did one good thing. But Colonel Mapleson wants to know whether the company will replace the scenery or whether the lessee will have to do it. If he is to do it, he says, he will have some of the scenery painted here, some in France and some in Italy, and he thinks is nearly time he was about it.

The Colonel is confident that no other Italian opera company can be brought here so good as the one that he can bring. He calls attention to the fact that he has brought out all the great singers, absolately all, of the present generation, and he says he has now plenty of singers of the highest order who heard here. He has two sopranos, a tralto and a tenor, who are wonders, and Mme. Morchosi has written to him that she has a pupil is a better soprano than any who has been heard who is a better soprano than any who has been heard in the last thirty years. Colonel Mapleson does not know or will not tell the singer's name or nation, but Mme, Marchesl says that it is now the ambition of her life to see this pupil surpass all her previous case. She believes she can do it, and wants Colonel Mapleson, and mobody but Colonel Mapleson, to bring her cut. The best sopranos in the future, the Colonel says will be Americans, for they have the best voices. The Colonel declares that he has no connection with Sir Augustus Harris, and he does not know how the impression got abroad that he had. He has often furnished singers to Sir Augustus, as to other managers. Sir Augustus has paid him for them, and that is all. He says that Jean de Reszke will in all probability be of no service in any future opera season. is all. He says that Jean de Reszke will in all probability be of no service in any future opera season here. Out of the dust thirty times he has been abacunced he has appeared about five, and his voice seems gone. The Colonel thinks the directors will five him full opportunity to present his plan, and when they have considered it carefully he believes that they will like it and will adopt it.

POLITICAL ODDS AND ENDS.

MR. FAIRCHILD STILL OFFENDED. THE EX-SECRETARY DOES NOT CONFIRM A RE-

PORT THAT HE IS TO BE COLLECTOR. A rumor was circulated in Wall Street yesterday A rumor was circulated in Wall Street yesterday and among the uptown hotels and political clubs during the evening to the effect that President Cleveland had finally decided to offer the Collectorship of the Port to ex-Secretary Charles S. Fairchild, in spite of their "tiff" of a month ago, when Mr. Fairchild Withdrew from the Anti-Snapper Conference at Mr. Cleveland's law-office in the Mills Building, deciaring that he "would never see Mr. Cleveland again." The that he "would never see Mr. Cleveland again." The rumor received a good deal of credence in many quarters, especially among the Anti-Snappers. It was the more readily believed owing to a statement that one of the last things that William C. Whitney did before starting for Florida to go upon his West India yachting cruise was to write a note to Mr. Cleveland advising him to heal the breach between the May Convention men and himself by offering Mr. Fairchild the place of Collector, for whom the Anti-Snappers were united. Mr. Fairchild was seen at his home, No. 76 Clinton Place, last evening, and was asked what he had to say lector. Mr. Fairchild admitted that the rumor had inclined to ascribe it to "newspaper men."

When it came to the direct question as to whether the President had made the offer reported, and if Mr. Pairchild would accept it, the ex-Secretary was ex-tremely dignified and maintained an altitudinous bearidering to his interlocutors. His reply in dicated that he was still full of resentment at Mr. Cleveland's treatment of the Anti-Snapper deputation when the latter sneered at the "original Cleveland men" saying they were "thinking of nothing but the offices" and calling the sacrifices of the Anti-Snappers in his behalf "all bosh."

in his behalf "all bosh."

"I have not now and never had," said Mi. Fairchild leftily, "the slightest reason to suppose that Mr. Cleveland wished me to hold any office under his Administration, and I have wished for none."

Mr. Fairchild closed the interview without giving

Mr. Fairchild closed the interview without giving his visitors any positive answer as to whether he would accept if he had the opportunity. Ex.Mayor Grace, Mr. Ottendorfer and other Anti-Snapper chiefs had much difficulty several weeks ago in getting the ex-Secretary to say that he would take the office "for the good of the Administration," but this was mentioned to Mr. Cleveland on the day of the hoted conference, and was one of the things at which he scofled. It may take renewed persuasion to get Mr. Fairchild to the accepting point again.

Other candidates are not idle in the mean time. William A. Poucher, the anti-Snapper leader of Oswego; Senator Charles P. McCleiland, of Westchester, and Joseph J. O'Donoghue, of New-York, are working hard to reach the goal. Senator William L. Brown and ex-Justice Maurice J. Power are still the leading candidates for Postmaster of this city. Peter E. cliney, Francis M. Scott and Magrane Coxe are after the Voited Etales District-Attorneyship. As M. Giney's brother, Attorney-General Richard Olney, will pass upon the qualifications of the several applicants for this place, it is taken for granted that Peter B. has the inside track.

F. R. COUDERT TO THE FRONT.

IT IS BELIEVED THAT HE IS SURE TO BE MINIS-TER TO FRANCE.

Frederic R. Condert, the well-known lawyer and president of the Manhattan Club, occupied a good share of political attention resterday. Rumor has closely associated his name with the office of Minister to France under the Cleveland Administration. Eight years ago Mr. Cleveland, then entering upon his first term, offered the place to Mr. Condert, but he declined it, saying that he had not reached the financial stage at which it was possible for him to accept. But the last eight years have been years of great pecuniary prosperity to Mr. Condert. The law practice of his firm has been extensive and expectations because here the many processing and his investment, have and expectations and the investment, have ceedingly lucrative, and his investments have turned out in a highly satisfactory way, so his friends say, and they feel sure that the brilliant New-Yorker of French lineage will not allow the opportunity again Prench lineage will not allow the opportunity again to slip of becoming the representative of the great American Republic at the capital of the country of his aima. I might, if I were inclined, found this senti-

Mr. Condert will sail for Paris on Saturday on the French steamer Bretagne, to gater upon his duties as one of the United States counsel in the Behring Sea Commission. This evening he will entertain the governors of the Manhattan Club at dinner and bid his associates adieu for, it may be, a period of years. It is not Mr. Condert's intention to resign the presidency of the club before he sails, as hes been said. His term as president will end on April 20, when the board of governors will meet to elect others for the coming year. Five of the to elect others for the coming year. Five of fifteen governors of the club will be chosen at the annual election to be held to-morrow evening. Mr. were the Princess, Mr. and Mrs. Davies and Miss | Coudert was re-elected a governor a year ago, and has therefore two years more to serve in that driven from the station to the Arlington Hotel and capacity. A great many Tammany votes were cast was held on Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. La against him last year.

When seen yesterday Mr. Coudert could not be induced to make a positive statement as to his pros-pects for the French Mission.

"All I know about it I have read in the newspapers," he said. "The President has given me no intimation hat he desires my services."

If Mr. Coudert is appointed Minister to France be will resign the presidency of the Manhattan Club, as his absence from the country for a possible four years would make his continuance in such a position impracticable. The general expectation at the club last evening was that he would receive the coveted honor, and that his acceptance would make a vacancy in the leadership of this noted social Democratic association.

Two candidates are already named to succeed him -C. C. Baldwin and J. Edward Simmons. They are both governors of the clab, but they represent the two factions of the Democratic party in this city. Mr. Simmons, as the standard-bearer of the Tam-many and Snapper warriors, and Mr. Baldwin, holdmany and Snapper warriors, and Mr. Baldwin, holding aloft the colors of the Anti-Tammany and Anti-Snapper belligerents, would make a contest which would be fought "to a finish" in fine style. The only trouble about it is that Mr. Baldwin's appointment as Minister to Russia, which he earnestly desires, would take him out of the fight. The name of William C. Whitney has also been mentioned for the clab presidency, but he does not desire it and will probably decline.

The firm of Condert Brothers, of which Frederick R, and his brother Charles are the principal members, is counsel for the French Government in this city. Mr. Condert has been receptized as one of the most ardent advocates of Mr. Cleyeland's nomination in New-York, and presided over the great Anti-Snapper mass meeting in February, 1892, which started the buil for Cleyeland and eventually secured his nomination.

IN A MUDDLE OVER THE DUAL LISTS.

Albany, March 8 .- Albany County Democrats are etting into a perplexing muddle over the complications growing out of the dual lists of inspectors of election presented saturday at the meeting of the local election commissioners by the Cleveland and the Hill factions of the Albany County Democracy. One of the results feared is that there can be no election this spring, because the requirements of the law relative to the publication of the lists of inspectors of relative to the publication of the lists of inspectors of election and poll clerks cannot be fulfilled. The first day's sitting of the boards of registry occurs Saturday, and the law provides that publication of the lists shall be for three days prior thereto.

The list of the Cleveland inspectors which Mayor

Manning falled to have adopted by the Election Commission, he, as Mayor, caused to be published; but the mandamus of Judge Fursman throws it out, and directs the publication of the Hill list, which was adopted. There are only two days remaining before the sitting of the boards of registry, and therefore the required publication cannot be had. tween the factions continues to grow bitter, and both sides assert that, courts or no courts, the inspectors sides assert that, courts or no courts, the inspectors named by them will serve.

This morning Mayor Manning took an appeal from the order of mandamus of Judge Fursman to the General Term. This, bowever, does not act as a stay to the mandamus proceedings and cannot be argued before the General Term in May, while the election is in April. Under the order of Judge Fursman, Mayor Manning is cited to appear before Judge Edwards in Special Term at Kingston on Monday, and make report as to how he has executed the order of mandamus.

All day long counsel for Mr. Manning have maintained that they had secured a stay of execution from Judge Mayham against the order of Judge Pursman. The counsel for the Hill faction had not been served with a copy of hay order staying the previous order up to this evening, and therefore did not believe that one had been issued. Late to-night the order of Judge Mayham granting the stay was received in Albany.

A. E. ORR WILL NOT BE COLLECTOR.

The statement that the office of Collector of the Port of New-York tad been offered to Alexander E. Crr. vice-president of the Chamber of Commerce, and president of the Civil Service Commission, of Brooklyn, was denied by Mr. Orr resterday. He also said that he would not accept the office under any cirhouse since last October. She then had some cumstances, as he did not have time to apare to athouse since last October. She then had some alterations made and rented the house to Mr. Douglas. Mrs. Grant has spent the winter in Anti-Saapper Convention at Syracuse in May last. California with her son Jesse. It is said that she has begun negotiations for the purchase of the Blaine house in Washington, where she intends to make her home in the future. Brooklyn, has received the offer of the place of Second Assistant Secretary of State, but he said vesterday that he could not accept it. He has charge of the law business of R. G. Dun & Co. George Foster Peabody, another Brooklyn Anti-Snapper, has been mentioned for a Treasury appointment.

DISCUSSING BROOKLYN REORGANIZATION. The Brooklyn Republican Committee on Reorganization, which was named last week, held its first meeting last evening at No. 151 Lawrence-st., to consider the various plans for improving the party organiza-tion which have been discussed in the last few months and which were referred to it last month with estructions to report in favor of a district organization, the election district being the unit. Among those present were: William W. Goodrich, Jacob Worth, Theodore B. Willis, W. H. Quinn, Hugo Hirsh, B. F. Blair, W. H. N. Cadmus, David Bothwell, A. H. Wagner, J. R. Smith, Joseph Benjamin, W. S. Ryan, F. F. Williams, Henry Asher, George H. Nason and Charles Bell.

Mr. Goodrich was chosen to preside. The plans which have been presented by B. F. Blair, Delmore Elwell, A. W. Wagner, Hugo Hirsh and others for a new system of party machinery or modifications in th present machinery were submitted and discussed in detail. Some members of the committee wanted the present ward associations abolished, but this was vigorously opposed by ex-senator Worth and others. The committee did not end its work and will meet again later in the week.

SPEAKER DAVIS DISPLACED.

Nashville, Tenn., March 8.—The Legislature reas-sembled this morning, and in the House a resolution was an once introduced requesting that Speaker Davis, who was recently disbarred at Memphis, present his resignation as Speaker. After some discussion this resolution was adopted, but the Speaker declined to esign. Thereupon Representative Jones, of Hardeman, introduced a resolution declaring the office vacant, and it was adopted, 72 to 9. Julius A. Trousdales, of sumner, was elected Speaker.

THE FACTIONAL WAR IN ALBANY.

Albany, March 8 .- Corporation Counsel Delehanty, of this city, obtained from Justice Mayham, of the Supreme Court, a stay to the writ of mandamus yessupreme Court, a stay to the writ of mandamus yes-terday granted by Justice Fursman, of Troy, to compel Mayor Manning to publish the list of inspectors, poll and ballot clerks selected by the city board of elec-tion commissioners. An appeal to the General Term has been taken by the Mayor.

AGAINST A LABOR BILL.

PROTESTS FROM DRYGOODS DEALERS.

LEADING FIRMS OF THIS CITY WILL SEND REP-RESENTATIVES TO ALBANY-LABOR

LEADERS FAVOR IT. Much opposition is manifested by the big retail merchants of this city to the bill introduced in the Legislature by Senator Saxton proposing certain restrictions on the labor in these establishments. A delegation headed by Mr. Thomas, of H. O'Neill & Co., will visit Albany to-day to lay before the committee of the Legislature having the bill in charge the objections to the proposed measure. They are unanimously of the opinion that it is an unwarrantable interference with their business affairs, which are vast in size, and give employment to an army of people in size, and give employment to an army of people "It is absurd and unreasonable," said Mr. Thomas yesterday, " to seek to legislate as regards our business Here we may get an order, say, for mourning goods to be completed at a certain time. To do it requires work overtime. For that work the women are paid extra. This bill would make it a misdemeanor to do the work; and yet from the nature of things such orders cannot wait or be subject to arbitrary rules of time. The same is true of wedding goods and of other goods. People come in and say: 'If you can't have this done by such a time I don't want it.' Why, it would kill our business unless remedied. In hundreds of ways it is not only impossible to carry it out, but would work a great hardship on employes." Mr. Friedsam, of B. Altman & Co., said the law was uncalled for, and would be more severely felt by poor families, to whom the wages paid to their children was an important item. It would be found that employers could stand it better than these poor families.

A member of the firm of Lord & Taylor expressed himself in strong terms against the bill. He said:

"That bill is an outrageous measure, and there is no pessible need for it. Employes in the drygoods trade are treated fully as well, if not better, than in any other mercantile business, yet it is intended to so restrict the large merchants as to prevent our allowing many of the privileges which we now give our clerks. It is foolish to compare a retail drygoods store with a factory, where factory inspectors are no doubt a necessity. There are, of course, some good points in the bill, but they are all provided for by the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Children, the city fire Department and the Board of Education. All of the retail merchants in this city are strongly opposed to the bill, and you can say that its passage will greatly injure business interests representing a provision of reserved players held in asserve."

League had stolen its players right and left. In reply, the National League and that the Eastern League had ended its last playing season fifteen days before the time set by the National agreement, and that the Eastern League of the forfeited its eights of reservation.

After a long discussion the following was passed: "It appears to the Board that the Eastern League of the National agreement and has duly furnished the secretary of the National League and Amesican Association its instead from the Prevention of Cruelty to Children, the city for the Prevention of Cruelty to Children, the city for the Prevention of Cruelty to Children, the city for the Prevention of Cruelty to Children, the city for the Prevention of Cruelty to Children, the city for the Prevention of Cruelty to Children, the city for the Prevention of Cruelty to Children, the city for the Prevention of Cruelty to Children, the city for the Prevention of Cruelty to Children, the city for the Prevention of Cruelty to Children, the city is a long discussion the Eastern League and League and Amesican Association is i will greatly injure business interests representing a Indignation against the measure was fully as strong among other representative firms. J. W. Einfel, of Ehrich Brothers, was particularly severe in the condemnation of the ball. He said to rebailed the condemnation of the ball. He said to rebailed the condemnation of the ball. He said to rebailed the condemnation of the ball. ## GENERAL HARRISON'S PLANS.

Indianapolis Pispatch to The New-York World,

Indianapolis Pispatch to The New York World.

General Harrison appeared unusually well to-day when he received "The World" correspondent. There was a flush on his normally pale cheeks, showing that the effects of the excitement of last night's "welcome home" had not yet died away.

"It was a remarkable occasion," he said, "I have been present at many such affairs, but none early compared with the one of yesterday. There was a warmth of greeing that impressed me very sensibly. The pressure of the crood was so great that I was pained to observe several ladies in a fainting condition. I was overloyed to see my fellow citizens, and I came away much affected.

"It is a spiendid feature of our American life that politics and the individual are not always held as one and inseparable. In Europe the anomestics of party extens, I am told, to private life, and the hiditeness of political differences are visited upon the individual. In Indiana, as you are aware, political dises are very closely drawn; therefore the generous manifestations of grace will bestowed by the members of the party in opposition to mine own awakened a sense of pleasure that will be lasting in my memory. Toward my political and personal friends who welcomed me I am exceedingly grateful for their land attentions.

"You inquire if I left Washington with regrets. Not at all. Had I been able to return to my nome under the conditions which prevailed when I left it four years 450 I would have been very happy. As it is, my joy is tempered by reflections which teprive it of zest. Under existing circumstances I may say that I refired from public life with a single aborting thought, and that is a desire for restant peace.

"I have infilled my duties as the Chief Executive of the American people as zealously, as conscientiously and as earnessly as I could. Now that the end has come I return to my quiet home, seeking retirement and time for reflection."

On political subjects General Harrison's lips are sealed.

"My political convictions are based upon definity and carefully considered principles," he sain. "I have expressed these principles formally to my fishwellizens, and I have no occasion to change my views, it would scarcely be utiling at this time to speak of public questions. I am now a private citizen, it is true, but there are considerations of ethics to which I defer."
